TO TRY FOR COMMISSION FORM.

If Hondo votes for incorporation at the election now being petitioned for, it will be under the Commission and not the Aldermanic form. This was decided upon at the mass-meeting of Monday night.

The meeting was attended by only twenty-five or thirty people, and was presided over by Felix Batot as chairman. Joe Ney read the report of the committee and a plat showing the metes and bounds of the proposed corporate limits was exhibited and made a part of the report.

The report was made in the form of a petition to the County Judge to order an election for incorporation under the Commission form and the metes and bounds are very much the same as those proposed some years ago except that it is some smaller in that certain farm lands, included in the former plat, were cut out at three or four corners, giving the town a somewhat odd-cross shape on the map. The town will be a mile and a half wide at its widest point, north and south, and about one and three-quarters miles at its longest extension along the railroad, east and west. The petition was signed by some twenty-odd voters at the meeting.

At the suggestion of the committee which drew up the petition, the plan to incorporate under the Aldermanic form as planned at the former meeting was dropped and the Commission form adopted in its stead. Instead of a mayor at large, four aldermen from as many wards, into which the town would have been divided, and several other elective officers, as would have been under the Aldermanic plan, a mayor and two commissioners from the town at large will be elected. To them will be delegated the power to appoint all other officials and employees, including a city manager if wanted.

At the suggestion of Chairman Felix Batot, it was moved and seconded that Joe Ney for Mayor and H. E. Haass and C. J. Bless for Commissioners be placed in nomination to be voted on at the same time the election is held on the matter of incorporation.

After some discussion of the matter by those interested in taking legal steps against the Water Company, it was decided by the partners in the suit to proceed in the matter.

After which the meeting adjourned.

Misses Irene and Esther Saathoff entertained the Sabinal Rotary Club with a musical program at the Club's noonday luncheon Friday of last week. The young ladies were accompanied by their father, Prof. W. N. Saathoff, who was a guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Caughey Horger and three children are here from Norman, Oklahoma, on a visit to Mr. Horger's parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Horger. They spent part of last week camping at Con Can. Mr. Horger is teaching at Norman.

There were 725 bales of cotton ginned in Medina County, from the crop prior to August 16, 1930, as compared with 366 bales ginned to August 16, 1929, according to Mr. J. P. Lippold's report.

The Kendall County Fair opens today at Boerne for a three day exhibition. We are pleased to acknowledge receipt of a season complimentary ticket for self and lady to this popular show.

Mrs. Joe Tondre, Mrs. Ed. Schmidt and daughter, Irene, of LaCoste and Mrs. Wm. Hall and daughter of San Antonio were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rieber and daughters, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Monier and daughter of Tarpley and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turner of San Antonio were visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rieber and daughters one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mulcahy and children are visiting Mrs. Mulcahy's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. Wright of Miranda City. They were accompanied by Miss Cora Wright.

An important school meeting is to be held at the courthouse tomorrow. Announcement and program for the same have already been published in this paper.

The above tabulation shows the vote by precincts in the run-off primary of August 23, 1930, in all the races. While we do not tabulate the total vote polled, the figures in the various races showed a considerable increase over the vote of the July primary.

What was true of the county is also true of the state as a whole in a general way, except that the lead of some of the candidates was reversed.

Following are the latest available returns for the state:

Governor, Sterling, 468,341; Ferguson, 376,975; Lieutenant governor, Witt, 415,647; Strong, 352,289. Attorney general, Allred, 457,891; Bobbitt, 331,116; Railroad commissioner, Neff, 444,539; Hatcher 328,178.

The tabulation accounted for 845,316 votes. Returns were from all counties but 95 of them had a few votes unreported.

J. E. McDonald of Waxahachie had a lead of more than 125,000 over his fellow member of the legislature, A. H. King of Throckmorton, in the contest for commissioner of agriculture. The vote was McDonald 430,893; King 300,220.

Charley Lockhart, formerly of Snyder, had 405,073 votes in the state treasurer's race to 348,271 for John E. Davis of Mesquite.

AS TO INCORPORATION.

The editor of this paper is for incorporation—WITH QUALIFICATIONS.

If Hondo needs incorporation at all—or is ever likely to need it—it is for sanitary purposes.

If the purpose of incorporation at this time is to install a modern and adequate sewer system for Hondo, and incidentally back it up with an adequate water system—even to the extent of a municipal owned water-works if necessary—we are for it, and we are ready to make the sky the limit in the issuance of bonds for that purpose if need be.

But for any other purpose, and in the absence of positive assurance that the above purpose is to be the first endeavor of the corporation, AS A CITIZEN, TAXPAYER AND A VOTER we are opposed to incorporation at this time.

We do not wish to enter into a discussion of the reasons we have for taking this position and merely state it that we may not be misunderstood.

AS THE EDITOR OF YOUR LOCAL PAPER, we suggest that the movement should be studied carefully, discussed freely and acted upon understandingly and in perfect candor.

To promote such discussion and understanding, any one interested is invited to make any reasonable use of the space in this paper for a discussion of the matter from any angle so long as the same is couched in that respectful language one neighbor owes another.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

The Hondo Glee Club and the Hondo Orchestra, both under the direction of Mr. Ed Armstrong, will give a concert in honor of Hondo's teachers at the High School Auditorium at 8 o'clock next Wednesday evening.

While honoring the teachers it will be free to all and the public generally is cordially invited to attend. Director Armstrong says it will be "a five-dollar program free of charge"—so come and get it.

O. E. S. BANQUET.

One of the largest and most enjoyable of the season's social affairs was the annual banquet given by the Hondo O. E. S. Chapter 404 at the Masonic Hall, Friday evening, commemorating the birth of Robert Morris, founder of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Starnes, Worthy Matron, made the opening address and Mrs. B. R. Bradley read a very interesting biography of Robert Morris. Misses Irene and Esther Saathoff gave the following musical numbers: "Serenade" by Toselle and "Gavotte" by Gossec. This was followed by a farce "Female Masonry" which displayed unusual histrionic talent of fourteen of the Eastern Star members and which was attended by such distinguished guests as Mary Pickford, Mrs. Lindberg and little son, "Ma" Ferguson and other important personages.

A delicious plate lunch was served to nearly two hundred guests.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By Will H. Mayes.
"All Texans for All Texas"

Tell Them About Texas

Victor Schoffelmayer of The Dallas News, in a recent luncheon address on "Selling Texas," urged greater exploitation of the advantages Texas has over other States in both agriculture and industry, briefly these are climate, length of growing season, soil, water, fuel and geographical location from the standpoint of nearness to markets. Texans have been entirely too modest in letting the world know these advantages, while some other States have exploited their resources to the utmost.

No opportunity should be lost to talk Texas to people at home and abroad, and there is much to talk about. The centenary of Texas independence in 1936 gives Texas wonderful opportunities for showing its resources, its progress and its possibilities. Texas development in the next ten years can be made the greatest in its history, provided united efforts are made to give the world accurate knowledge of the State and its vast opportunities, and every loyal citizen should interest himself in helping to disseminate that knowledge.

More Railroad Building

The Fort Worth & Denver railroad, a branch of the Burlington system, has been given permission to extend its line from Chidress by way of Wellington and Shamrock to Pampa, the Burlington and the Rock Island to use joint trackage between Shamrock and Wellington, a distance of 26 miles. This road will add more than $4,000,000 to the Burlington's transportation facilities in Texas.

Work is progressing on plans for the Gulf & West Texas roads which will fill in gaps between San Antonio and San Angelo. There is still good reason to believe that, despite competitive opposition, the line from Abilene to Cross Plains will be permitted and that work will soon be started on that road. These two roads will not be completed before a movement will be on for connecting them with a road from Cross Plains to Brownwood.

Construction is being rushed on the road to Resaca. Much money is being spent by all the roads in improving trackage and transportation equipment, and railroad officials are studying Texas maps and securing data to find where extensions can be made to advantage.

Despite the cries of hard times in the East and of increasing competition, the railroads operating in Texas are spending vast sums in the State in extensions and improvements.

Federal Highway Aid

The Federal Government has made $7,020,000 available for its share of highway building in Texas, approximately $8,000,000 more than was allowed last year. Highway construction to the amount of about $20,000,000 is now under way in the State, and work is being let at the rate of about $2,000,000 a month.

Railroad and highway building are largely responsible for the fact that the employment situation is better in Texas than in other States.

Make Them Work

Farmers in South Texas are complaining that they can't get cotton pickers, despite the fact that in every city and town there are scores of idlers hanging around the street corners refusing to accept jobs. Many of these loafers are the worst type of citizens, who do not want employment of any kind, but live by bootlegging, hijacking, porch climbing and thievery of every kind. If they refuse to work in the cotton fields, they should be made to work on the streets and roads. Too many officers are entirely too lenient with idle criminals.

Building Free Bridges

"LIONS TAKEN ON A FLYING TRIP."

The Lions asked their reporter to tell them about his trip to Toledo, Ohio, and back. Since he made the trip solely to attend the convention at which three Lutheran church bodies merged into the American Lutheran Church and therefore did not take the time to stop over at any place of interest, he was not in a position to meet the expectations of the Lions. He did, however, give them some observations, experiences and impressions of the trip.

He substantiated the current reports on the heat wave and poor crop conditions in the central states on both sides of the Mississippi from the Gulf to the Great Lakes.

He told of three attitudes toward the 18th amendment which he observed enroute: "teetotalism" on the part of a negro Pullman porter; disrespect for the law on the part of a "respectable" railroad official; observance of the law on the part of Christian ministers and laymen.

He gave them a few "snap-shot" views of the Liberty Memorial in Toll bridges are hangovers from the last century that should have gone with toll roads. They have about all disappeared except over rivers between States that have failed to reach agreements as to the building of bridges. It is gratifying to know that the Red River toll bridge north of Denison is soon to be replaced with a good free bridge and that the highway to Oklahoma City from Denison will be in first class condition all the way.

Evidencing Prosperity

The Alice Echo tells of the busy scenes on the streets of Alice, the merchants having an fine business they can handle, especially on Saturday. This is the result of wages paid for cotton picking, road building and other employment. The Echo says: "There positively is nothing in the outlook in this section to cause people of Alice and Jim Wells county to feel any way except optimistic."

The Delton Free Press cites as an evidence of prosperity, the shipment of twelve head of fine Shorthorn cattle to Sedalia, Mo., to make the Mid-Western Fair Circuit, some of the cattle weighing more than a ton.

People who take the trouble to look around a bit, and who refuse to be influenced by the "hard-timers," can find much cause at home to show times are better than some would have them think.

Jasper Fish Hatchery

The Game, Fish and Oyster Commission will let the contract for a State fish hatchery at Jasper, September 6. The hatchery will be on a 200 acre tract, 60 acres of which will be under water. It will cost approximately $50,000.

The Federal Government will build a hatchery in the near future somewhere in West Texas, the cost to be about $75,000.

Canning Home Supplies

Much home canning is being done by farm women in McCulloch county. One community, Vocea, has a professional canner, who has a large pressure cooker and who assists the women who may want her services. She has canned this season 1,341 cans of vegetables and meats for nine families. One woman of the neighborhood has over 600 cans of food of a large variety of kinds and proudly boasts that "hard times would have a hard time getting her in a hard place for a year at least, as her pantry supply of canned vegetables, fruits and preserves would easily last that long."

Helping Texas Mothers

Somebody at the College of Industrial Arts has proposed to hold next summer two short sessions of two weeks each arranged so that club women can bring their children, get dormitory accommodations at reasonable rates and attend lectures on subjects of interest to them, such as government, parliamentary law, literature and art. It is not proposed to go deeply into subjects, but merely to give women the opportunity to brush up mentally on matters of interest and renew studies that may have been forgotten—a kind of post graduate passtime for those who do not like to get cobwebs in their brains.

New Kind of King

Some kinds of kings are now a bit unpopular, but those who do things better than others and along different lines still deserve to be called kings. Otis Foster at Lytle is called the "Lytle Peanut King," because he is selling peanuts by the car load. He sold the first car of the season for $1,400 and in addition received a bonus of $100 because he marketed the first car sold in the State this season.

Leading Cotton County

Nueces county expects to maintain its position as the leading cotton county in the United States, estimates being that the production for the year will be from 115,000 to 120,000 bales, about 50 per cent of it having been baled.

Kansas City; the Marshall Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago (critizing only one feature; the depicting of the development of man from the ape as if it were a proven fact) the Toledo municipal museum, with its "Holy Grail" and Egyptian mummies, the Zoos in Toledo and Cincinnati.

He related how the train was loaded on a ferry at New Orleans and transported across the Mississippi.

He concluded his talk by stating that as soon as the people "up north" come to know what a delightful, healthful climate we have in Medina County and how free we are in our manner of living, free from coal smut and unemployment, that they would flock down here. If you ever get disgusted with Hondo and Medina County just take a trip up north; you'll come back a wiser and better man, thankful for the privilege of again living here.

A representative of the San Antonio Express put a "publicity" proposition before the Club. The matter will be taken up at the next regular meeting Tuesday.

Refining A Super Service Institution

or What Constitutes A Good Railroad

STANDING STILL now-a-days is equivalent to going backward for almost everything is moving forward more and more rapidly and the person or the institution that stands still soon is left far in the rear of the procession. It is fortunate for America that great changes have occurred, especially in transportation and communication and particularly in railroading.

These changes involve not only the courageous work of railroad managements in developing the railroad transportation plant and the marked increased efficiency with which our railroads are operated but also are noteworthy insofar as is concerned the attitude of the public toward the railroads and the attitude of the railroads and railroad employees toward the public.

It is only a few years since the railroads announced a policy of unusual service. Their sincerity soon was demonstrated and quickly was accepted as a matter of course. That era was quickly followed by the present one. Efforts of railroad men now are directed toward further refinement of super-service institutions.

"What constitutes a GOOD railroad?", is a question easily answered now. A GOOD railroad of course is one that has built up and is maintaining a splendid physical condition. But a GOOD railroad is much more than that! A GOOD railroad is one that collectively as an institution and individually through its officers and men and women lives up to what we are pleased to term the highest ideals of good citizenship. And that means more than merely supporting the government and obeying the laws. At least, so far as railroads are concerned, it does. It means recognition of the duty of all to participate in any worthy civic enterprise and aid wherever possible in the further development of our country—agricultural, industrial, economic, social and spiritual.

The Missouri Pacific Lines as an institution and the entire army of nearly 65,000 employees of the System have a complete realization of the obligation and a clear vision with which to face the future. The Missouri Pacific Lines are the answer to the question, "What Constitutes a GOOD Railroad?" And with the understanding and help of the public we will make it an even better and greater one.

I solicit your co-operation and assistance.

COMMITTEE INSPECTS THE MAIN CANAL.

A committee sent to inspect the canal made their inspection last 13 and found the canal in good shape. A brief session of the directors was held to consider matters pending. Nothing was done towards starting the canal. It would be hard to stop the water for a time; and the hot dry weather, when water is needed every day, would make this inadvisable. The committee came from many land pur-chasers back at home who complain of drought conditions back there and can easily understand how we feel about our problems and troubles.

YANCEY NEWS.

During the absence of our pastor, Rev. J. H. Estes, services were conducted by Mr. Robert Mumme of Hondo; both morning and evening services. Next Sunday Mr. Mumme will preach here again and everybody is cordially invited to come to the services.

Our little burg was shocked when the news reached here of the tragic death of Mrs. Ella, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Butts. She was a nurse by profession and made her home in San Antonio. She was instantly killed by a passing train, as she was walking along the track, in some unaccountable manner. Rev. W. L. Dubose of Devine spoke words of comfort to the bereaved ones. A large crowd assembled at the grave in the Butts cemetery showing their last respects. We extend the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubry Evans of San Antonio attended church here Sunday and also visited homefolks.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watson and daughter, Earline, of Hondo were here for the funeral.

Mr. Claud Burgin arrived Saturday from College Station where he remained for the summer session of the A. & M. College.

Mrs. August Bohmfalk and daughter, Lucile, returned from a two weeks' visit to relatives in San Antonio. Miss Gladys remained in the city and has a position with Sommer's Drug Co.

We are glad to report that Mr. Coy Berry is improving nicely after receiving treatment for a broken arm.

Mr. Fred Hardt and family of Thompsonville are visiting relatives here.

Mr. Ernest Hardt and family of Zig Zag were guests of Mr. Frank Martin and family Sunday.

Mr. John Martin is driving a brand new automobile and so is Mr. Harrison Wilson. Good crops of corn must be the cause of new cars coming in.

Mr. John G. Bohmfalk was painfully hurt by a horse kicking him last Sunday. It was at first thought to be serious and fears were entertained that his ribs were fractured, but later diagnosis proved to the contrary.

W.N.U. SERVICE
COPYRIGHT BY GEO. H. DORAN CO.

THE eminent Stewart Edward White, one of America's most gifted writers of romance, has contrived a regular pirate story on land—in the redwood forests of California. It has the elements of a sea thriller, excepting that there is neither ocean nor ships, nor are any of the characters of a sea-going breed. These divergent properties merely serve as excellent material for exercise of the author's humor and fine romantic ability.

Less than an hour before she had been her sister, Mrs. Fred M. Mueller, 305 Montclair street, to tell her she was going to spend the day with a friend, Mrs. A. H. Albrecht, Dayton avenue.

Mrs. Greely is survived by a daughter, Evelyn Greely, and three sisters, Mrs. Mueller of San Antonio, Mrs. Highsmith of Burnet, Texas, Mrs. Martin Tonerlin of Sabinal, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Butts.

Plans For Four Big Annual Regional Shows Announced of 1930

The four regions and the fairs at which the Special Jersey Shows will be held.

The showing of fine dairy cattle during the 1930 show season should be greatly stimulated by the special program announced by the American Jersey Cattle Club. This program calls for four great Regional Jersey shows to be held in four divisions of the United States. Special premiums and awards have been provided to insure success of each of these shows. The purpose of these regional shows is to bring together exhibits from the great dairy herds in the country so that breeders and dairymen may have the opportunity of seeing the most outstanding animals of the breed at some convenient point in each territory without traveling too great a distance.

In 1929 four regional shows were held for the first time and these shows met with remarkable success in each case. In quality and numbers of cattle shown these exhibitions exceeded anything of this sort held in the past. New locations for the 1930 regional shows have been selected in accordance with the policy of holding these shows in conjunction with different fairs that have suitable equipment and are aggressively aiding the development of dairy cattle exhibits.

The four Regional Shows this year will be held in conjunction with the Pacific Slope Dairy Exposition, the Minnesota State Fair, The Texas State Fair and The New York State Fair.

The Pacific Slope Dairy Exposition or the Western Regional Show will be held at Oakland, California, November 6 to 13. The states comprising the region being California, Washington, Montana, Oregon, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico. J. P. Eves, Judge.

Twelve states comprise the Middle West Regional Show to be held at the Minnesota State Fair at Minneapolis, August 30 to September 6. They are Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. George White, Judge.

The show for the Southern Regional area has been assigned to the Texas State Fair, Dallas, Texas, October 11 to 26. This area comprises the states of Texas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina. J. B. Fitch, Judge. The week of October 18 to 26 has been set aside as Jersey Week, so this Regional Show will not conflict in any way with Jersey Judging at the National Dairy Show, which will be held on October 14 and 15.

New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine, comprise the Eastern Regional Show section, with the New York State Fair at Syracuse as the designated Regional Jersey Show, September 1 to 6. W. W. Yapp, Judge.

The Regional Shows held before the National Dairy Show will contribute to the development of the Jersey exhibit at this great dairy cattle show, to be held in St. Louis, Mo., October 11 to 18. It is expected that many Regional Show winners will compete at the National Dairy Show.

tures and holds its fruit and foliage better than any of the other cow peas. The writer is convinced that this pea is worthy of further trial, that it promises to fill a long felt need of a leguminous soil-building plant that can be used for both grazing and hay. Further the claim is made that this new pea has the habit of sending up new growth after being mowed or grazed off.

MISS CARROLL WEDS DR. R. P. THOMAS, JR.

Miss Alma Price Carroll, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Eggleston Carroll, was married to Dr. Robert Powell Thomas, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Thomas Wednesday at twilight in the home of the bride's mother. Only members of the immediate family were present at the ceremony, which was read by Dr. P. B. Hill before an improvised altar of gladioli and greenery.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Carlton Adams sang "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Nat Goldsmith.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Elwyn Carroll of Houston. She was lovely in a Patou model of ivory satin trimmed with applique rose point lace. The short puff sleeves were tied with tiny satin bows. She wore a cap of rose point lace and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, frilled with Chantilly lace.

Mrs. Andrew Leslie Ballard, sister of the bride and her only attendant, wore a frock of blue chiffon fashioned along princess lines. Her picture has was of LaBaule straw and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Andrew Leslie Ballard was best man.

The ceremony was followed by a tea. The table was decked with pink Columbia roses, orchids and heliotrope, arranged in a Dresden bowl. At one end of the table was the wedding cake, a large confection embossed with flowers in Dresden shades.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas left for Monterey and Mexico City. They will be at home after September 15 at 122 East Lullwood. The bride's going-away costume was a Hattie Carnegie model of black crepe trimmed with white net ruffles. With this was worn a black and white hat.

Mrs. Thomas was graduated from Gunston Hall in Washington, D. C., Dr. Thomas is a graduate of the University of Texas and the Tulane Medical School, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Nu Sigma Nu fraternities.

MEDINA TEST PUT ON PUMP.

Immediate development of another shallow oil pool in Medina county is assured with the Sunflower Oil company's No. 1 Mofield registering a production of 16 barrels of 18.7 gravity oil on the first 24-hour pumping test, according to Sunflower officials. Two locations have been made in the vicinity of the well, they report, but to date have not been definitely announced.

The well topped the sand at 882 feet and drilled a total depth of 945 feet. Operators have been working with the test for five or six weeks after drilling into the formation in an attempt to overcome what they believed to be sand trouble. Last week, it was discovered that the strong flow of gas was causing it to sand up and preparations were made to care for this flow.

The well was placed on pump Saturday at 1 P.M. and by the same time Sunday, it had put 16 barrels into the tank, officials of the company report. A trap to catch the casing head gas is providing enough fuel to run the 12 horsepower engine being used to pump the well.

The oil is being sold to the Golden West Oil company's refinery in the Ina Field. It is reported that the refinery will take all the oil this field can produce, which indicates an immediate and complete development.

The exact location of the well is 1335 feet north of the south line and 2240 feet west of the east line of section 532 of the J. Borthing survey. It is one mile west of the Ina oil field and two miles south of the Adams gas field.—San Antonio Express.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at San Antonio, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 9 and 10, at the Jefferson Hotel from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time.

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds rupture which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

Stomach trouble, backache and constipation, nearly always a consequence of rupture, promptly disappear.

A Novel of the Foothills

By ROBERT STEAD

Author of "The Cow Puncher," "The Homesteaders," "Neighbors," etc.

He selected a farm where a ridge of foothills overlooked a broad valley receding into the mountains. The dealer had no idea of selling him this particular piece of land; they were bound for a half section farther up the slope when Grant stopped on the brow of the hill to feast his eyes on the scene that lay before him. It burst upon him with the unexpectedness peculiar to the foothill valleys; miles of gently undulating plain, lying apparently far below, but in reality rising in a sharp ascent toward the snow-capped mountains looking down silently through their gauze of blue-purple afternoon mist. At distances which even his trained eye would not attempt to compute lay little round lakes like silver coins on the surface of the prairie; here and there were dark green bluffs of spruce; to the right a ribbon of river, blue-green save where the rapids churned it white, and along its edge a fringe of heavy cottonwoods; at vast intervals square black plots of plowed land like sections on a chessboard of the gods, and farm buildings cut so clear in the mountain atmosphere that the sense of space was lost and they seemed like child-houses just across the way.

Grant turned to his companion with an animation on his face which almost startled the prosaic dealer in real estate.

"Wonderful! Wonderful!" he exclaimed. "We don't need to go any farther if you can sell me this."

"Sure I can sell you this," said the dealer, looking at him somewhat queerly. "That is, if you want it."

"Thought you were looking for a wheat farm."

The man's total lack of appreciation irritated Grant unreasonably. "Wheat fills the belly," he retorted, "but sunsets keep alive the soul. What is the price?"

Again the dealer gave him a queer sidelong look, and made as though to argue with him, then suddenly seemed to change his purpose. Perhaps he reflected that strange things happened to the boys overseas.

"I'll get you the price in town," he said. "You are sure it will suit?"

"Suit? No king in Christendom has his palace on a site like this. I'd go round the world for it."

"You're the doctor," said the dealer, warning his car.

Grant completed the purchase, ordered lumber for a house and barn, and engaged a carpenter to superintend the construction. It was one of his whims that he would do most of the work himself.

"I guess I'm rather a man of whims," he reflected, as he stood on the brow of the hill where the material for his buildings had been delivered. "It was a whim which first brought me West again. I have a whim about my buildings. I do not do as other people do, which is the un-gardenable sin. To Linder I am a jester, to Murdoch a fanatic, to our friend the real estate dealer a fool; I even noticed my honest carpenter trying to ask me something about shell shock. Well—they're my whims, and I get an immense amount of satisfaction out of them."

The days that followed were the happiest Grant had known since childhood. The carpenter, a thin, twisted man, bowed with much labor at the bench, and answering to the name Peter, sold his services by the day and manifested a sympathy amounting to an indulgence toward the whims of his employer. So long as the wages were sure Peter cared not whether the house was finished this year or next—or not at all. He enjoyed Grant's cooling in the temporary workshop they had built; he enjoyed Grant's stories of funny incidents of the war which would crop out at unexpected moments, and which were always good for a new pipe and a few minutes' rest; he even essayed certain flights of his own, which showed that Peter was a creature not entirely without humor. He developed an appreciation of scenery; he would stand for long intervals gazing across the valley. Grant was not deceived by these little devices, but he never took Peter to task for his loitering. "If the old dodger isn't quite paying his way now, no doubt he has more than paid it many times in the past," he mused. "This is an occasion upon which to temper justice with mercy."

But it was in the planning and building of the house he found his real delight. He laid it out on very modest lines, as became the amount of money he was prepared to spend. It was to be a single-story bungalow, with veranda round the south and west. The living-room ran across the south side; into its east wall he built a spacious fireplace, with narrow slits of windows to right and left, and in the western wall were deep French windows commanding the magic of the view across the valley. The dining-room, too, faced to the west, with more French windows to let in sun and soul. The kitchen was to the east, and off the kitchen lay Grant's bedroom, facing also to the east, as becomes a man who rises early for his day's labor. And then facing the west, and opening off the dining-room, was what he was pleased to call his whim-room.

The idea of the whim-room came upon him as he was working out plans on the smooth side of a board, and thinking about things in general, and a good deal about Phyllis Bruce, who had just arrived from the East, and wondering if he should ever run across zen Transley. It struck him all of a sudden, and the Big Idea that night when he was on his way home from Murdoch's house. He worked it out surreptitiously, not allowing even old Peter to see it until he had made it into his plan, and then he described it just as the whim-room. But it was to be by all means the best room in the house; special finishing and flooring lumber were to be bought for it; the fireplace had to be done in a peculiarly delicate tile; the French windows must be high and wide and of the most brilliant transparency.

The ring of the saw, the trill of the plane, the thwack of the hammer, were very pleasant music in his ears. Day by day he watched his dwelling grow with the infinite joy of creating, and night after night he crept with Peter into the workshop and slept the sleep of a man tired and contented. In the long summer evenings the sunlight hung like a champagne curtain over the mountains even after bedtime, and Grant had to cut a hole in the wall of the shed that he might watch the dying colors of the day fade from crimson to purple to blue on the tassels of cloud-wraith floating in the western sky. At times Linder and Murdoch would visit him to report progress on the Big Idea, and the three would sit on a bench in the half-built house, sweet with the fragrance of new sawdust, and smoke placidly while they determined matters of policy or administration.

Grant was almost sorry when the house was finished. "There's so much more enjoyment in doing things than in merely possessing them after they're done," he philosophized to Linder. "I think that must be the secret of the peculiar fascination of the West. The East, with all its culture and conveniences and beauty, can never win a heart which has once known the West. That is because in the East all the obvious things are done, but in the West they are still to do."

"You should worry," said Linder. "You still have the plowing."

"Yes, and as soon as the stable is finished I am going to buy four horses and get to work."

"I supposed you would use a tractor."

"Not this time. I can admire a piece of machinery, but I can't love it. I can love horses."

"You'll be housing them in the whim-room," Linder remarked dryly, and had to jump to escape the hammer which his chief shied at him.

But the plowing was really a great experience. Grant had an eye for element which he had been so generously apostrophizing. The well-trained horses came to a stop as he gathered himself up, none the worse, and regained his seat.

"That was a spill," he commented. "Ditched not only myself, but my whole train of thought. Never mind; perhaps I was dangerously close to the development of a new whim, and I am well supplied in that particular already. Hello, whom have we here?"

The horses had come to a stop a short distance before the end of the furrow, and Grant, glancing ahead, saw immediately in front of them a little chap of four or five obstructing the way. He stood astride of the furrow with widespread legs bridging the distance from the virgin prairie to the upturned sod. He was hatless, and curls of silky yellow hair fell about his round, bright face. His hands were stuck unobtrusively in his trouser pockets.

"Well, sor, what's the news?" said Grant, when the two had measured each other for a moment.

"I got braces," the boy replied proudly. "Don't you see?"

"Why, so you have!" Grant exclaimed. "Come around here until I see them better."

So encouraged, the little chap came skipping around the horses, and exhibited his braces for Grant's admiration. But he had already become interested in another subject.

"Are these your horses?" he demanded.

"Yes."

"Will they bite?"

"Why, no, I don't believe they would. They have been very well brought up."

"What do you call them?"

"This one is Prince, on the left, and the others are Queen, and King, and Knave. I call him Knave because he's always scheming, trying to get out of his share of the work, and I make him walk on the plowed land, too."

"That serves him right," the boy declared. "What's your name?"

"Why—that's yours?"

"Wilson."

"Just Wilson."

"What does your mother call you?"

"Just Wilson. Sometimes daddy calls me Bill."

STREETS OF GOLD.

The city engineer of Milwaukee, according to the Associated Press, declares that in every cubic yard of the city's pavements there are three cents' worth of pure gold; that a pedestrian treads on four dollars' worth in walking a block, an automobile passes over a hundred dollars' worth in going downtown, and that Milwaukee's streets altogether contain about $48,500 worth of the precious metal.

In a literal way, then, Milwaukee may claim to be a fore glimpse of New Jerusalem, with its streets of pure gold; but in a higher sense gold is to be found in every town, and in every part of every town there is good everywhere.

Of course we know that for every three cents' worth of gold in Milwaukee's streets there is a ton of almost worthless clay and sand and gravel. But why not think of the gold rather than the dirt? Is not that the best way to go about increasing the ratio of the gold and bringing our streets up to the standard of the New Jerusalem?

"And the street of the city was pure gold."

BOY'S AGE PROVED IN POLICE KILLING.

Oefinger 16, Court Decides; Effort Made to Free Him from Jail

An attempt to free Roy Oefinger, 16, admitted slayer of Policeman Ted Boynton during a holdup, from Bexar County jail will be made Tuesday morning by E. B. Simmons, attorney for Oefinger. Simmons said he had an engagement with Louis Sauveur, chief probation officer, at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning when the matter could be taken up.

Simmons said the law provides three methods by which a juvenile offender can be handled. One provides where there is danger the juvenile may leave the jurisdiction of the court, he may be kept in jail "a reasonable length of time." Another provides for his release under bond, and the other is that he may be paroled in custody of his parents who shall be held responsible for him.

Oefinger, after being declared a juvenile by Special Judge W. S. Anthony of the 37th District Court, became a ward of the county, Simmons claims, and can not be tried for murder. The only charge that may be filed against him is that of delinquency, upon conviction of which he may be sentenced to the State reform school until he is 21 years old.

The lad was turned over to the probation officer Monday afternoon after Simmons introduced the baptismal record of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Yancey, Medina County, and the boy's mother had testified to his age.

The church record showed Oefinger was baptized May 19, 1914, and gave his birthday as December 19, 1913.

Mrs. Clara Oefinger, mother of the defendant, testified she was married December 26, 1912 and her son was born December 19, the following year. A copy of the Hondo Anvil Herald containing a notice of the wedding was introduced. Mrs. Oefinger said a physician and a woman were present at the birth, but the physician has since moved to Arizona and the woman is in San Antonio but she did not know her address.

Assistant District Attorney Delos Finch, after examining the documents, offered to admit Oefinger was 16 years old but Simmons pointed out a statute which provided age could not be admitted in such cases but evidence to satisfy the court must be produced.

The State introduced a permanent record from Crockett Elementary School in which the birth of Oefinger was fixed at December 19, 1914. Finch said the record was introduced because his only interest was in determining the real age of the defendant, and he wanted the court to have the benefit of all data available.

Oefinger was turned over to the juvenile authorities in the court room and was returned to Bexar County jail as a juvenile prisoner.

Refining A Super Service Institution

or What Constitutes A Good Railroad

STANDING STILL now-a-days is equivalent to going backward for almost everything is moving forward more and more rapidly and the person or the institution that stands still soon is left far in the rear of the procession. It is fortunate for America that great changes have occurred, especially in transportation and communication and particularly in railroading.

These changes involve not only the courageous work of railroad managements in developing the railroad transportation plant and the marked increased efficiency with which our railroads are operated but also are noteworthy insofar as is concerned the attitude of the public toward the railroads and the attitude of the railroads and railroad employees toward the public.

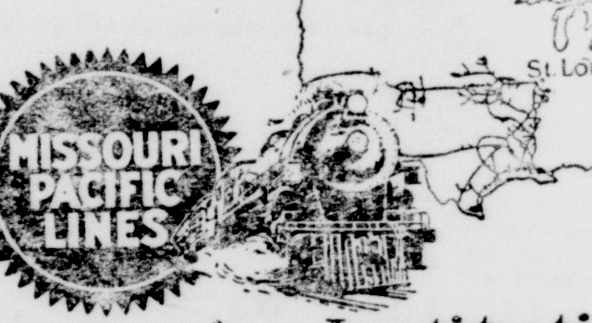

It is only a few years since the railroads announced a policy of unusual service. Their sincerity soon was demonstrated and quickly was accepted as a matter of course. That era was quickly followed by the present one. Efforts of railroad men now are directed toward further refinement of super-service institutions.

"What constitutes a GOOD railroad?" is a question easily answered now. A GOOD railroad of course is one that has built up and is maintaining a splendid physical condition. But a GOOD railroad is much more than that! A GOOD railroad is one that collectively as an institution and individually through its officers and men and women lives up to what we are pleased to term the highest ideals of good citizenship. And that means more than merely supporting the government and obeying the laws. At least, so far as railroads are concerned, it does. It means recognition of the duty of all to participate in any worthy civic enterprise and aid wherever possible in the further development of our country—agricultural, industrial, economic, social and spiritual.

The Missouri Pacific Lines as an institution for the entire army of nearly 60,000 employees of the System have a complete realization of the obligation and a clear vision with which to face the future. The Missouri Pacific Lines are the answer to the question, "What Constitutes a GOOD Railroad?" And with the understanding and help of the public we will make it an even better and greater one.

I solicit your co-operation and assistance.

TERRACING LAND IN TEXAS HELPS GET BANK CREDIT.

If a Texas farmer desires a loan from the Federal Land Bank at Houston it will help if his land is terraced to protect it from the damaging effects of erosion, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, which is co-operating with State experiment stations and other agencies in an intensive "erosion prevention" program.

The Orchard Watchman

Tammany Hall has been the watchman of that orchard, the city treasury, more often than any other organization, and greedily as well as immature men have usually been assigned to its outposts.

you have a farm, ranch, home or town lots for sale or trade, list them with the Hondo Land Co. Extensive advertising given to all listings.

Hints For Homemakers

To give an unusually delicious flavor to your summer beverages, add to a base of sweetened lemonade, tart jellies of different varieties, beaten until syrupy. The brightly colored jellies are as valuable for their color effects as they are for the distinctive flavors they impart. Two or three teaspoons to a large glass is about the right proportion.

When hanging recently washed curtains, if you have a trying time running the rod through the hem, put a thimble on the end of the rod. Then you'll have no trouble getting it through, even though the hem is stiff and stuck together. Best of all, you'll eliminate the risk of tearing delicate fabrics.
